The Men We are Going to Vote For August 4th.

The time is close at hand when we are to choose men to handle our county finances and manage the government of our affairs generally.

In nominating these men we, as men who are voting with an aim, will vote for the man that is going to stand for material road improvement.

Did you know, Mr. Voter, that this is the opportune time to elect men and stand behind men that will stand for roads regardless of what comes up. Now is the time for this county to vote bonds for building roads. We can give you some good reasons, namely:

First—Our county is being sought from every state in the union by men WITH MONEY—men that want to develop this country for oil and gas. These men are rich and want to spend their money in a way that will make them more comfortable and afford them most pleasure. For instance: If an "oil man" comes to Campton or Helechawa and wants to go to the Lacy creek oil field, the first thing he wants to know is whether or not he can go in an automobile, and if there is one to be had he is going to ride over there in it if it costs him $5.00, while he could have hired a horse for $1.00. But, you say, how does this help us build roads? It is this way: That fellow owns these oil wells and wants to be here close. If he can get over the roads then he owns his auto, stays here in the county, pays the county so much for a license to run his auto, pays taxes to county on thing itself, and becomes a taxpayer generally here in the county. As it is he invests just as little money here as he possibly can to operate his business here and spends his time and money in Winchester or Lexington where they have good roads.

Another reason why we should vote road bonds now: Money is the cheapest now this country has ever known it and for that reason we can put our bonds on the market at the lowest possible interest rate.

Have you ever noticed what a man does when gets a few thousand dollars ahead? The next thing you hear of that fellow he is leaving the mountains with his family to a place where he pays a road tax and has good roads. It is the case invariably.

Gentlemen, we appeal to you as a citizen, as a man who wants to live and enjoy life to the utmost, one who expects and is willing to do the most possible good for his county, to vote for the men who will stand for the roads above everything.

To the Voters of Morgan and Wolfe Counties:

As it has come to that point in my race for Representative where my opponents and their friends are resorting to every known political trick to deceive you and poison your minds against me, I take this opportunity of refuting some of the falsehoods which they have started, asking you to read what I have to say and then pass it on to your neighbors.

Twice in the good county of Wolfe and once in Morgan they have started the rumor and scattered it broadcast that I had quit the race. This rumor was absolutely unfounded and was the offspring of desperate, malicious hearts, who, with defeat staring them in the face, in their desperation are ready and willing to resort to any method however low and debased, to rob me of votes.

One of my opponents, I am reliably informed, has been telling the laboring men around Campton City that I had made the remark that "I was not depending on overall men for my votes." That, my friends is a deliberate lie of the first water, and the death-song of a dying two-by-four politician. If it were not for the laboring people of this district, who have been duped, swindled and sold by machine politics until they are almost hopelessly buried in the cess-pool of graft and corruption, I would not be in this race. I am the laboring man's candidate—I am the laboring man's friend—a man who has made what he and I'll stand by him so long as God gives me mind and physical strength to do it. It is because the selfish, corrupt politicians of this district realize the fact that I am able to expose their rottenness, and that I will do it if elected, that they are so unfair, so unmanly and crooked in their designs, as to start such lies as this one in circulation against me.

The friends of another one of my opponents have been telling that in one of my speeches at West Liberty I made the statement that "a farmer was not fit, or did not know enough to be a member of our legislature." Two or three hundred of you, my friends, heard my speeches, and two or three hundred of you know that this rumor is a deliberate lie. I have always held the farmers up as being the very backbone of our country, and there are farmers who are qualified and in every way competent to fill the governor's chair of this state. If I am elected I will be elected by farmer's votes, and when elected I propose to put a lot of blood-sucking politicians, who live from the honest toil of the laboring class, out of business and give the farmers and their families a chance.

Another rumor being circulated is, that I have sold out to the present administration and to the liquor interests. That rumor, my friend—that black-hearted lie—originated in West Liberty and was started by a man who would trade on your votes as he would the laboring man's friend—a man who has made what he and I'll stand by him so long as God gives me mind and physical the king of boodlers who support men for a job of some kind. It is such men as he that has plunged Kentucky four million dollars in debt, leaving the burden of his "patronage filled" purse on you and your sons. Listen, my friends, if the present Administration is for me I am grateful for it and have no apologies to make. I have not sacrificed one principle I advocate or surrendered a single plank in my platform in order to secure any man's vote or political support, and God helping me I shall not. I am under no obligations to the Governor of this state or anyone else, and if elected I shall carry out my every promise to you or die in the attempt. I propose to fight the liquor traffic and help drive it from Kentucky, and I would call your attention to the fact that I started my fight against it three years ago, when for seven weeks I was in the field at my own expense fighting to make it an issue in the gubernatorial campaign of the State. Where were my opponents at that time? Did you see them in their saddles fighting liquor? I cannot be bought, for my integrity is above the price of gold. I cannot be influenced except by the common people for whom I am making this fight, and when I am elected I want the farmers, the coal miners, the lumbermen and the railway men who live by honest toil to come to West Liberty, to Frankfort, or to write me at either place, and make their wants known. I want them to establish themselves as my board of advisors—for to them first, last and all the time will I devote my time and my efforts. There will be no representatives of the Haley-Cox machine, or any other machine, behind closed doors to throttle me and say vote "yes" or vote "nay" or appoint this or that. Thank God I am above that, and they know it, hence their bitter, persecuting opposition to me.

G. C. Taulbee.

LEXIE

Here's Your Chance to Help.

Washington, July 25.—Magazines and newspapers, bearing one-cent stamps, hereafter may be posted, unwrapped and undressed by persons other than publishers, and will be forwarded by postal authorities to American soldiers and sailors in Europe.

In announcing Tuesday plans for gathering reading matter conveying home news and fiction to the boys abroad, Postmaster-General Burleson suggested that magazines print the following in the upper right-hand corner of their front covers:

"Notice to the Reader—When you have finished reading this magazine place a one-cent stamp on this notice, hand the same to any postal employee and it will be placed in the hands of our soldiers and sailors at the front. No wrapping—no address."

The publications will be carried under parcel post classification at one cent each, regardless of weight. A concentration station has been designated in each state for assembling of the reading matter.

Notice of Sale.

WOLFE CIRCUIT COURT.

FRED ADAMS, Guardian, &c., Plaintiffs, vs. MYRTLE ADAMS, &c., Defendants.

BY VIRTUE of a Judgment and Order of Sale of the Wolfe Circuit Court, rendered at its May, 1917, term, in the above styled case, I will on at being the regular term of the Wolfe County Court, between the hours of one and four o'clock p. m., at the front door of the courthouse of the town of Campton, Wolfe county, Kentucky, sell at public outcry to the highest and best bidder, for cash in hand, the following lease, which is in words and figures as follows:

Agreement and lease made and entered into this the day of 1917: Witnesseth, that Myrtle Adams, Hoyt Adams and Lillian Adams, by J. L. Horton, Master Commissioner of the Wolfe Circuit Court, for and in consideration of $ duly and truly paid, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, do hereby grant, demise and let unto the lessee all the oil and gas in and under the following described tract of land; also the said tract of land for the purpose of entering upon, operating thereon, and removing therefrom said oil and gas for the term of years from date, and as much longer thereafter as oil and gas is found thereon, with the right to use oil, gas and water therefrom; and all rights and privileges necessary or convenient for such operation; also the right to remove at any time all property, pipes or improvements placed or ereccted in or upon said land by the lessee. Said land being all their interest in and to the following described tract of land: Situated on the Standing Rock ford of Red river, in the county of Wolfe and state of Kentucky, and bounded as follows:

On the North by the lands of Alex Bush and Cret Children;

On the East by the lands of Elizabeth Bowman;

On the South by the lands of the Wells heirs;

On the West by the lands of Banford White and others.

This agreement or lease is made upon the following terms to-wit:

1st—To deliver to the credit of the first parties, their heirs or assigns, their proportionate part free of cost in pipe lines to which second party may connect its wells the equal one-eighth of all oil produced and saved from the leased premises.

2nd—To pay to the first parties their proportionate part of $100 each year in advance from each well from which gas only is found while the same is being used off the premises.

The party to whom the second party agrees to complete a well upon the premises within months from the confirmation of this lease, otherwise this lease becomes null and void. If first well is non-productive, second parties will pay at the rate of $ in advance for each additional three month from the time above mentioned until a second well is completed. The above rentals shall be paid to the guardian of the first party at the Powell County Bank, at Stanton, Kentucky, and it is agreed that the completion of a producing well, or a second well, shall be and operate as a full liquidation of all rentals under this provision during the remainder of the term of this lease.

Party of the second part shall have the right to use oil, gas and water produced on said land for operating thereon except water from wells of the first party. When required by first party second party shall bury all pipe lines below plow depth. Second party shall have the right at all times to remove all machinery and fixtures placed upon said premises, including the right to draw and remove all casing.

And it is further provided that second party shall have the right upon the payment of $1.00 to the parties of the first part, their heirs and assigns, to surrender their lease for cancellation, after which all payments and liabilities to accrue by virtue of its terms shall cease and determine. All agreements between the parties hereto shall extend and apply to their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns.

Given under my hand as Master Commissioner of the Wolfe Circuit Court this 9th day of July, 1917.

J. L. HORTON,

Master Commissioner W. C. C.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

VOTE FOR

JOHN D. ROSE

FOR COUNTY JUDGE

IN THE

Democratic Primary, August 4, 1917.

If nominated and elected I promise you a faithful and honest administration of laws. I promise you an economical administration of the county government, and to collect no more taxes than is necessary to meet the expenses of a business administration. I promise to give strict attention to the repairing and keeping up of our county roads without favoritism to be shown to any one section of the county. I pledge you that in the discharge of the duty of County Judge I will do equal justice to the poor and rich alike without fear or favor. Respectfully,
JNO. D. ROSE.
